

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Otter creek rose 18 inches during the rain of Tuesday night.

Miss Olga Temple of East St. Johnsbury raised a best this season which weighed five and one-fourth pounds.

Martin Barts of Pawlet was fined $6.70 on the charge of trapping muskrats out of season. The open season did not begin until Nov. 1.

Someone broke into a gum machine at the store of P. H. Conway in Rutland recently, stealing gum worth 50 cents and pennies amounting to $3 or $4.

Bellows Falls' new industry, a box making business, now employs 32 hands and work is rushing. The number of hands employed will later be increased to 50.

A wall-eyed pike was caught in Lake Bomoseen this week by George A. Bucklin of Rutland, which was about 30 inches long and weighed over nine pounds.

The canning factories in Brattleboro and Westminster have had an excellent season, the output from the Brattleboro factory being 500,000 cans and from Westminster 700,000 cans.

While Darrell Howard was running a threshing machine in St. Johnsbury center Oct. 19, his right arm was caught in the machinery and mangled so badly that it had to be amputated.

George R. Wales and Judge W. A. Graham, auditors of Bellows Falls, resigned their office at a meeting of the village trustees held recently. No new appointments have been made as yet.

Mrs. Thomas Tyrie, wife of Rev. Thomas Tyrie, a former pastor of Grace church at St. Johnsbury, died at her home in Hazardville, Conn., Oct. 24. Mr. Tyrie is pastor of the Methodist church in Hazardville.

Miss Miriam Livingston of Ludlow, who was appointed to succeed A. L. Taft as letter carrier on one of the rural routes, decided she would not be able to do the work in winter and so resigned before she began.

Recent heavy rains caused the dam of the Rutland Ice company to give way Wednesday, taking out one bridge and flooding several acres of land, doing no special damage, except the loss of the bridge and the injury to the dam.

An interesting sight for the time of year is a field of wild kale in full bloom at the junction of the Connecticut and White rivers in White River Junction. The kale has grown since a crop of corn was harvested from the field.

Forty members of the Million Dollar Doll company, who had remained in Newport during the quarantine period, have gone to Fitchburg, Mass., where they presented the play last night and to-night.

Joseph Dempsey of South Acworth, N. H., is in the Rockingham hospital at Bellows Falls with five ribs crushed as the result of an accident in a mill in South Acworth, when his clothing was caught in the machinery and he was whirled about in it.

Street railway lines in Rutland reflected the lack of patronage during the influenza epidemic, receipts of the second week showing a falling off of $314.71 from normal and the third week in the month the receipts were $261.94 less than normal.

Pvt. James J. Mullin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Mullin of Rutland, died in Potsdam, N. Y., this week, where he was attending the mechanics' army training school at the Clarkson institute. The telegram did not give the cause of death. He was 20 years old and had been in service only two weeks.

Beginning last Thursday morning, all freight and passenger trains out of White River Junction are to be made up with the steel cars succeeding each other, and the same respecting wooden cars. It is said to be a danger to have the steel and wooden cars intermixed.

Miss Anna M. Stevens, assistant principal of the junior high school at St. Johnsbury last year, has been engaged, as principal of the Lyndonville graded school and began work there Monday. For two months Miss Stevens had been assisting in the office of the E. & T. Fairbanks company.

Harry Smith, known as "Canada Blackie," who escaped from the house of correction and was at large for several months before being recaptured, has been released from the charge of postoffice burglary, on which he was first imprisoned, and now will be tried on the charge of jail breaking.

County Agents Boost War Crops.

A 7 per cent increase in hog production and a 25 per cent increase in sugar beet production over the preceding year is the result of campaigns carried on this year by county agents in Minnesota. When the call came for more pork and more sugar as a war emergency, surveys were made in those sections of the state where hogs are raised and where sugar beets are grown profitably. The county agents advised farmers to raise one litter more of pigs and to house and feed them properly. In spite of the fact that there has been a shortage of corn for feeding and that a large number of brood sows and hogs were sold and shipped to neighboring states where corn was more plentiful, the increase in production was made. A larger acreage in sugar beets was also secured through the efforts of the agents.

Onward and Upward Mit Gott

Another Move for More Poultry.

All the district agents of the United States department of agriculture who are engaged in emergency poultry work will meet with members of the Washington administrative force at Kansas City Oct. 28-30, to take a census of recent results and to launch another campaign for the efficient production of an abundance of poultry and eggs. Practically all the southern Mississippi valley and middle western states have effected satisfactory increases in their production of poultry products. The emergency agents are now waging a successful campaign against the unprofitable hens by getting owners to cull such fowls from their flocks. Hens which produce less than 75 eggs a year are better dead than alive, while fowls which yield from 75 to 100 eggs annually are only fair producers. Good layers produce 125 eggs and upwards every 12 months. In some flocks of 200 hens, 75 of the low producing fowls have been eliminated and still the normal and positively degenerate flocks. This results from more favorable conditions and surroundings for the hens left in the flock which are not so crowded and which, consequently, produce better.

Wastefulness That Causes Shortage of Paper.

Every newspaper in the country is compelled by the government to cut down in consumption of paper. It bears down heavily on the small-size "country daily." The cumbersome Sunday city newspapers are still of elephantine proportions and the fool comic (?) pages are continued as usual by many of them. If there is one non-essential element in the publishing line, a positive waste of paper, it is these silly and positively degenerate pages. If the government departments would cut off at least 75 per cent of their useless and out-of-date publications of all kinds and these comics put under the ban there would be no shortage of paper for legitimate publications.

As a concrete example of the waste of paper by the government departments, The Rutland News received a circular from the treasury department Oct. 21 urging that the fourth Liberty loan be subscribed. The matter was mailed two days after the campaign for the loan was over and it was known that it was a waste. And this is simply a typical case of government waste of paper and clogging the mails. Similar things are happening almost every day. Legitimate publications, newspapers, magazines and books, would not be embarrassed by any paper famine and the consequent sky-high prices if the government did not waste hundreds of tons of it every month. It is a condition that ought to be remedied—Rutland News.
